-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 03 May 2004.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to applicants' amendment and response received May 3, 2004. Claims 17-21, 23-30, and 32-42 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 17-21, 23-30, and 32-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gioffre et al, US 4,592,855.

Gioffre et al teach effervescent compositions having a cleansing action (see abstract). An example of such a composition is prepared by heating zeolite A in an oven for 1.5 hours to remove water, subjecting the dried zeolite to carbon dioxide under pressure, and then blending the carbon dioxide-containing zeolite into a composition comprising sodium lauryl sulfate (cols. 7-8, examples 1-4). As this reference meets all material limitations of the claims at hand, the reference is anticipatory.

Applicants have traversed this rejection on the grounds that Gioffre et al do not disclose or suggest a laundry detergent comprising an aluminosilicate ion exchange material for delivering effervescency in a detergent product wherein the detergent product further comprises a perfume and a surfactant. The examiner respectfully disagrees and contends that the disclosure of Gioffre referring to powdered cleansers and stain removing compositions encompasses laundry detergents (col. 3, lines 35-41). Accordingly, the rejection is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 17-22, 24-31, and 33-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baule FR 891,661.

Baule et al teach a method for absorbing oxygen into aluminosilicates for incorporation into detergents (see entire document). The aluminosilicates are subjected to a gaseous current loaded with oxygen, such that the oxygen will be released during use of the detergent (page 2, claims 1-4). Baule et al do not teach specific method steps of the present claims such as heating the zeolite prior to loading with a gas, however, as one of ordinary skill in the art is aware the zeolite must be dried before it can effectively absorb the gas, such method steps are obvious preparatory steps in the invention of Baule et al.

Applicants have traversed this rejection on the grounds that Baule does not disclose or suggest a laundry detergent comprising an aluminosilicate ion exchange material for delivering effervescency in a detergent product wherein the detergent product further comprises a perfume and a surfactant. The examiner respectfully disagrees and notes that Baule specifically teaches a composition for degreasing fabrics (page 1, lines 22-29). Accordingly, the rejection is maintained.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
